CORAM: R.M.S.KHANDEPARKAR
&
V.M.KANADE, JJ

DATED: 11th September, 2006.

P.C.

. Heard. Considering the nature of the misconduct which has been established against the petitioner and the seriousness thereof, we do not find any fault in the punishment imposed upon the petitioner in the case in hand. There being no arbitrariness disclosed in the matter of imposition of punishment and the inquiry having been conducted in a fair and just manner before arriving at a finding regarding the misconduct on the part of the petitioner, there is no case made out for interference in writ jurisdiction. The petition is, therefore, rejected.
